NEWS OF THE MORNING.

Most provokingly, just when the greatest anxiety is felt to hear the result of the Philadelphia Convention, the wires went down last night, and we received no report after 1 P. M., though we doubt not that the nominations were made, and we think that Fremont is the man.

The brief reports that we have show a harmonious spirit and admirable platform for union for Freedom.

The steamer America arrived yesterday at Halifax. Her news is favorable to the breadstuffs market. Nothing of great political interest.

The people are thoroughly aroused to help their brethren in Kansas, as will be seen by articles in our columns. We have the proceedings of an enthusiastic meeting at Ft. Atkinson, which we shall publish to-morrow.

It will be seen that the editor of the German Republican paper in this city has been threatened with personal violence for some offence to the democracy. Great times, these!

Our foreign correspondent commences a very interesting letter, descriptive of Thebes.

THE DELUSION OF STATESMEN.—The proposition of Senator Crittenden to advise the President to send General Scott to Kansas, called forth a series of brief speeches from democratic Senators, of a remarkable character.

Brown, of Miss., opposed taking up the resolution, believing that interference by the Senate in the matter would be calculated to increase the alarm. He did not believe, however, that the state of affairs in Kansas was such as to call for extraordinary proceedings.

Toucey, of Connecticut opposed it. He said: Let there be obedience to the law, and all difficulties would cease.

Adams, of Miss., opposed it.

Mallory, of Fla., opposed it. He thought if Congress should cease debating the subject of Kansas affairs, all excitement would be allayed, and there would be no difficulty in restoring quiet in Kansas.

Mason, of Va., believed that everything had been done which the occasion called for, and which propriety would allow, to bring the unfortunate state of things in Kansas to a termination.

Reid, of N. Ca., said if the people of Massachusetts and other States would cease the agitation of the question, the difficulties would soon be settled in Kansas!

THE NEW YORK CONVENTION.—We have at length, from our New York exchanges, the full proceedings of the Convention, and learn what were the doings and sayings which preceded the nomination of Mr. Bank.

Soon after the organization of the Convention, a communication was read from Hon. E. D. Morgan, Chairman of the Republican National Committee, calling attention to the terms of the call for the Philadelphia Convention, and suggesting whether,—inasmuch as the call was for a general union of all who are opposed to the extension of Slavery and to the outrages enacted in its behalf—there could not be such a union, other issues being laid aside.

This was referred to a committee, though not without much opposition from the natural born K. N.'s, who soon after seceded and nominated Com. Stockton. The Committee returned on Saturday morning, with a report in favor of a union at Philadelphia as proposed, and with resolutions to ballot so as to indicate preferences for a candidate, and for a Committee to confer with the candidates and with the Philadelphia Convention.

This report was adopted, and the balloting ensued as heretofore reported. The Convention remains in session, informally.

ANOTHER MURDER.—The Appleton Crescent, of the 14th inst., says: We learn that Baird, the Oneida Indian who has been confined for a long time at Depere for murdering another Oneida, a few days since on a writ of habeas corpus; that he returned to the Oneida Reservation, and called upon a cousin, who kicked him out of his house, and then shot him, killing him instantly.

It also says a barge, loaded very heavily with goods for Appleton, Berlin, and other river towns, and in tow of the Ajax, was accidentally crossed and sunk, on Thursday, while passing the Depere lock. The damage to the goods must be very heavy.

NOBLY DONE.—We are requested by the Secretary of the Kansas Aid Society to acknowledge the receipt of $100, given by the employees on the La Crosse and Milwaukee Railroad. It is nobly done. There are hearts beating warmly for freedom everywhere.

☞ The St. Louis Anzeiger des Westens, a German daily and weekly paper, with a large circulation and much influence among the Germans in the West, which has hitherto acted with the Administration, repudiates both the platform and the candidates of the Cincinnati Convention.

RACINE MATTERS.—We learn from the Advocate that the city authorities at Racine are about to expend some $7,000 in protecting the shore from encroachment by the lake.

Also, that 62½ tons of iron for the harbor improvement have arrived, and that the work is going on finely.

FIRST BOAT THROUGH.—The canal boat Seneca reached Albany on the 11th, being the first through from Buffalo, and having been a month on the passage. The terrors and horrors of the long and severe trip had doubtless turned the Captain's head white. The Seneca was received with bands of music and great rejoicing.

REPUBLICAN EDITORS.—The publishers of the Jefferson, (Jeff. Co.) Republican having left for Kansas, an excellent opportunity is now offered for a good man to take hold of a paper, having a handsome circulation and business.

RAISING THE TREMONT HOUSE.—A proposition has been made to the owners of the Tremont House, Chicago, to raise it to the new grade for $40,000. That would be a remarkable piece of engineering.

Antiquity of Thebes—Cambyses—Bible facts confirmed—My Arabian Horse—The supremacy of Nature over Art—Belzoni's Tomb—Tombs of the kings and queens—Tombs of the priests—The great plain of Thebes—Human bodies—The traders and their stock—The princess' hand.

THEBES, March 4, 1856.

The city of Thebes, of all others, furnishes the scholar, the antiquarian, the historian and traveller seeking after knowledge, the greatest scope and field for study of any of the ruined cities already known in the world. Ascending the Nile for many miles previous to arriving there, the valley gradually widens out into a large plain, in the centre of which, encompassed by mountains, in a circular form, at least fifty miles in circumference, stands the old city, which was formerly divided by the river. From the scriptures and other ancient writings, as well as the testimony of historians who at various times for the last two thousand and five hundred years have visited the spot, the city must have been one of vast magnitude. The remains of temples, the tombs, the monuments and other ancient works also demonstrate the fact. For miles and miles in extent the ground is strewn with the remains of these temples and other beautiful edifices that adorned this splendid capitol—the wealth and magnificence of which astonished all that came from far and near. As Egypt is the oldest country in the world, so is probably this the oldest city. Human knowledge can only go backward to about a given period, no matter what country may contain the records, and there it stops.—Beyond this point there is a dark blank space, which, if entered, there are found no land marks to guide the wanderer.

Nearly two thousand years since, when Hecatus, the Greek commander and historian, visited Thebes, it was in ruins then, but not as desolated and deserted as it is now. It was still quite a flourishing city, and the temples were occupied by the priests as of old. The Greek, like all his countrymen, naturally a little vain, informed one of these priests that he was the sixteenth in descent from Jupiter. The priest pointed to the three hundred and forty-five wooden mummy cases that stood up around the walls of the inner temple containing the rulers of Thebes, and said that each had ruled the city in succession, from father to son, each a mortal the son of a mortal, and that it was that number of generations since the gods Osiris and Horus had reigned in Egypt." But five hundred years previous to this, Cambyses, the Persian general, had spent his wrath upon this devoted city. Flushed with his conquest of Memphis and other cities of lower Egypt, he advanced upon Ethiopia, thinking that he could easily subdue the people. When he arrived at Thebes, he detached an army of fifty thousand men to go to the great oasis and destroy it, and when this was done to advance on the oasis of Ammon and reduce that also.—This fine army, buoyant with hopes of wealth and plunder, executed the first order and started on its way to seize and pillage the second—but they never reached their place of destination.—Years and years after, a spot was discovered containing many acres which was covered over with human bones—they were those of the Persian soldiers who had perished on the Lybian desert. Probably they were met by the sirocco and covered with sand, and after lying for ages were uncovered by the same power that destroyed them.

The great Persian general suffered not only from this failure but from another which was far more annoying to his pride and ambition. As he advanced into Ethiopia the inhabitants fled from before his myriads of soldiers, armed from head to foot, against which their bows and arms and other means of warfare had no effect, destroying all their own property that they could not drive or carry away. Famine followed, and Cambyses was obliged to return to Thebes. Owing to this double disaster he wreaked his vengeance upon the city, sparing nothing either sacred to men or gods. Failing to destroy the temples by burning them, he brought against them the war engines then in use for besieging cities, and battered down their massive walls, overthrew the statues of the great Coptic kings and laid desolation to the place. Not satisfied with this he burst open the tombs of the kings and plundered them of their treasures.

But this was not new to the Kings of Thebes. They had done the same thing to other cities equally as sacred and devoted. On the walls of one of their temples, seen now as vividly as when it was left by the artist, is a representation of one of these kings sitting on the throne of Ramesis, the Shishak described in the Book of Kings, returning with his captives from Jerusalem, having there plundered the temple of the golden shields with which Solomon himself had endowed it.

Of this most interesting and most wonderful of all ruins and places I have seen or can be found, it would take at least twelve letters as I write them, to convey to the reader even a general knowledge of the different objects of interest here to be met, without being in the least minute. I, therefore, am compelled to merely glance at some of the most interesting, asking the reader to furnish himself with one of the many interesting works written upon Egyptian history and her remains, believing that it will not only be a source of great pleasure, but one of deep interest and profit.

And here permit me to remark that no one, I think, can pass through this country without being convinced of the truth of all the material facts contained in the Old Testament. Although thousands of years have passed away, to say nothing of the delineation and sculptural illustrations of historical facts, still many of the customs and sayings of the people are exactly the same as in days of yore. The method of making brick, plowing, sowing of grain, tending flocks, grinding at mills, eating, sitting, dancing, embracing of friends, and a thousand other things, are substantially the same now as found sculptured on the walls of the temple four thousand years ago.

Mounted on an Arabian horse, whose antics I shall never forget, in company with our party, our own dragoman and another from the city, we set off one bright early morning for the tombs of the kings at the west side of the river. We had scarcely started over the sandy beach when my horse commenced caracoling, and I was told to let him have his own way. On loosening the rein he started into a full run over the beach, with almost lightning speed, forming a circle, with large, protruding, intellectual eyes, I could with propriety say, and dilated nostrils. The circuit he made was full a mile in length, and when he wheeled in and joined the company he curved his neck around towards me, and his roguish looking eyes all but said, "Did you ever see anything of that kind in Wisconsin?" All the other horses were ambling and performing one by one the same kind of pastime. But our venerable dragoman did not join with us, thinking, perhaps, it would detract a little from his dignity. His name was Achmet, and I believe he was with Bayard Taylor. I could not, however, but admire the manner, like most all other Arabs, of his sitting upon his horse. His turban and long blue shirt, which would not bring fifty cents under the hammer, constituted his only wardrobe; yet I venture to say, without the fear of being contradicted, there cannot be found among our officers emblazoned with epaulette and feather, one in a thousand that rides as gracefully and as handsomely as he does. In both rider and horse there is that simple, unaffected grace and ease that art can never give. This idea seems to pervade all Egypt, to follow the works of nature on account of her great supremacy over art. Hence, in the architecture of her temples, the columns and other portions are copied from known flowers and trees. The Gothic style of building in England and our own country was adopted from the same idea, first borrowed by the Greeks and Romans from the Egyptians and transferred to our own country. This was suggested by the arching branches of the forest trees—probably the acacia, for I have seen an avenue five miles in length with a row of these fragrant trees on each side, some four or five rods apart, and yet their branches were perfectly interlaced with each other.

The Presidential Election.

SIXTEEN FREE STATES.		FIFTEEN SLAVE STATES.
Maine	8	Delaware	3
New Hampshire	5	Maryland	8
Vermont	5	Virginia	15
Massachusetts	13	North Carolina	10
Rhode Island	4	South Carolina	8
Connecticut	6	Georgia	10
New York	35	Florida	3
New Jersey	7	Alabama	9
Pennsylvania	27	Mississippi	7
Ohio	23	Louisiana	6
Indiana	13	Texas	4
Illinois	11	Tennessee	12
Michigan	7	Kentucky	12
Wisconsin	5	Missouri	9
Iowa	4	Arkansas	4
California	4
Total	176	Total	120
Grand total	296	Necessary to a choice	149

Granting that the pro-slavery ticket will carry every Slave state, there are just 27 votes to spare, and still leave the Free States in a majority. As the Opposition have carried every Free State but Illinois and Pennsylvania within the last two years, and mean to carry both this year, the prospect is by no means discouraging. If Pennsylvania must go for Buchanan, we have still a majority left; but that State has on several occasions given immense majorities on the right side, and, it is not unlikely to do so this year.—The earnest work of earnest men will carry every Free State for Freedom.

Strang, the Mormon Prophet, Shot.

We are indebted to the Captain of the Prop. Lady of the Lake, from Ogdensburg, through Geo. Doreman, the consignee, for the following memorandum.

J. J. STRANG, the Mormon King, at Beaver Island, was shot on the evening of the 16th inst. He was sent for by the Captain of the steamer Michigan to come on board. On his way there, two Mormons (Thos. Bedford and Alex. Wentworth) came out from behind a pile of wood and shot him. Two balls entered his head and one his body. He was still alive on the morning of the 17th, but his wounds are supposed to be mortal. The provocation for the commission of the crime could not be learned, but it is supposed to have arisen out of some previous quarrel.

Kansas Meeting in Waukesha.

WAUKESHA, June 17.

MESSRS. EDITORS.—You will be pleased to hear of the enthusiastic Kansas meeting which took place here on Monday evening last. Although there were no handbills circulated, and very little effort made to draw an audience, yet the house was largely thronged with men whose eager and intelligent faces bespoke them in earnest.

Immediately after the organization, the meeting was addressed by Prof. Daniels, with an eloquence which moved every honest heart with indignation and pity, and crimsoned every honest face with shame for his country's degradation.—The vehemence and "blood-earnestness" of the speaker, although confining himself to the single story of the wrongs of Kansas, carried his audience by storm.

Kansas will long remember the devoted and untiring efforts of Prof. Daniels in the cause for which she is suffering.

Mr. A. W. RANDALL, being loudly called for, made a speech in his peculiar vein, and with his peculiar ability, containing a caustic review of the course of the present infamous Administration. And although the evening was far advanced, other speakers were called for, and finally a meeting of the ladies of Waukesha was announced for the next day to consider what they could do for Kansas and Freedom. The spirit of the heroines of the Revolution has not forsaken their daughters.

Although Waukesha has heretofore given liberally. The meeting made up the respectable contribution of one hundred dollars.

Adjourned to meet in one week, contemplating a series of such meetings, to continue until Kansas is a Free State; and may God hasten the time. LIBERTAS.

Following a Bright Example.

By the following communication, it will be seen that the democracy of Milwaukee feel the effect of the sturdy blows given them by the able editor of the Atlas, the German Republican press here, and, unable to meet him in argument, threaten to resort to club law, a la Brooks. It is no small compliment to Mr. Domschke to be thus singled out for revenge, but we confess to some surprise at the conduct of Mr. Bade, whom we have supposed to be above such conduct.

EDITORS DAILY SENTINEL:—

The glorious example of Hon. Preston Brooks is not lost upon our stout Democrats in this city and State. To gag free speech and free press by violence and intimidation is the watchword.—This afternoon, after the weekly issue of the Atlas, the German Republican newspaper, had made its appearance, its editor, Mr. Domschke, sat with some friends and contributors of the said paper in a public house, when Mr. Bade, horse-whip in hand, accosted that gentleman, asking him whether he was the author of the article, "The fourth of July." When answered in the affirmative, Mr. B. told him he was about to "cowhide him," and after being replied to to do as he'd liked, if he had no argument else, with three German newspapers of genuine democratic stamp at hand, than the threatenings and application of brutal force, he withdrew, we may say to his honor, rather abashed about the inefficiency of his bullyism. 'Tis an evident proof, that even the desperadoes of the democratic leaders feel themselves driven to the wall and at their wit's end, and that they after the example of their Southern pattern recur to the means of violence and intimidation. Vivat sequens!

AMERICAN LOCOMOTIVES FOR EGYPT.—Messrs. Mason & Co., of Taunton, Mass., have just finished two superb engines for the Railroad between Cairo and Suez, ordered by the Egyptian Viceroy. They are to furnish a comparison of American skill with the English engines of Crampton & Stephenson, running between Alexandria and Cairo. They weigh 26 tons, burn coke, and on a recent trial on the Taunton road, ran four miles in 3 1-2 minutes.

Judge COTHREN takes the place of Judge KEEP in the Rock Co. Circuit, in cases in which the latter was counsel.

RATIFICATION AT APPLETON.—The Buchanan men at Appleton called a grand ratification meeting for last Wednesday, but the rain came down and drowned out their enthusiasm. The Free Press says:

No meeting came off at the corner of College Avenue and Oneida street. Consequently up to this time the Hartford Convention, the attempted assassination of a U. S. Senator, the murder of Irishmen; the burning of Lawrence, the murder of free state men, robberies, and violation of females committed by the Border Ruffians in Kansas; and the course of John B. Macy in Congress, remains unratified in Appleton.

That interesting ceremony will doubtless come off some time in future, if ever, of which the people will doubtless be duly informed.

The Band came out and played two tunes, "Jordan am a hard road to travel," and "the Rogues March."

From the N. Y. Evening Post.

The following letter has been handed to us with a request for its publication. It is written we are assured, by one who has hitherto had no sympathy with Mr. Sumner, or attachment to the principles advocated by him, but has been strongly pro-slavery in his sentiments. The change in the author's political sentiments, which the letter indicates, is the legitimate result of the assault on Mr. Sumner, and the events which have followed it. He says:

"It is not just to hold the whole South responsible for the act of the one man, Brooks—it is hardly just to hold it responsible for the justifying cry of their newspapers, nor for the South Carolina committee's complimentary silver; but it is just to hold the whole South responsible for the united action of their entire delegation in Congress. This delegation, save two, I believe, have united in voting against punishment. Unless Brooks be expelled, not only by Northern votes, but by the great body of the Southern members, I for one, shall vote for the northern candidate for President, be he what he may otherwise—Republican, Freesoiler or Abolitionist. I don't care where he was born, or what platform he stands upon, so long as the platform allows him to point, with all the magnetism in him, positively North; and not only that, but he must turn his negative end just as fairly toward the South. If no other one can be found of this nature, I'll take Gerrit Smith. The South must be put down. There must be peace on this Slavery question—peace cannot be made, it must be conquered. It is no time to give the South an inch—nothing beyond their strict legal rights. I never doubted the legal right of Congress to prohibit slavery in all the territories, and in the District of Columbia. But I always thought it unfair and ungenerous, and therefore morally wrong, that we, the stronger section, should use our power to appropriate all the common territory to our own exclusive use, or to establish a form of society in a district given us by Maryland and Virginia, and adjoining them, different from their own society, and in fact hostile to it But the time for generosity is past. The South says domineering, by one side or the other, it is to be the fashion. Be it so. The North is rather the stronger of the two, and it is more becoming that it should domineer. It would do it most gracefully and more tenderly. Weak men are more apt to abuse power than strong ones. Since one section or the other must rule, it is our right, by nature's law, as greater strength. The North, as the North, in distinctive character as a section, must seize the power of the country, in their strength, and rule it as they choose; or, in all their superior strength, they must crouch meanly under actual blows. That was a magic cane of Brooks'—it laid poor Sumner's head open, but it has made, at the same time, thousands of sore heads elsewhere. Certain animals who live in the North are proverbial, when they have sore heads, for being peculiarly cross. Unless I am mistaken, there will be some very cross voting next fall, to the astonishment of professed politicians. Half the people of this State staid at home last election. Very few of this unattached party believe in gutta-percha canes as political arguments. The South wants sadly to be taught to know its place. It wants a master. The sooner the North gives them one the better.

They may lose some of what I have thought their just rights. It can't be helped. The army that, by its strength, is entitled to have a fortress yielded to it, cannot always be kept within bounds, if forced to take it by assault. As for disunion, the simple answer is not: "Let it slide," but: "The North won't allow disunion." The South is in the Union, and shall be made to stay there. See that your Republicans nominate a man who is, above all, of well known pluck. A united vote from the North for such a man and the work is done. Where now we hear threats, we shall then hear entreaty. That single cane of Brooks has let day-light into a good many slow-thinking heads in the North; and although its aim was against the single head of one the South deemed their enemy, its real and worst effects has been upon the heads of the South's own army of friends in the North. No drill-sergeant's cane ever made men face about so promptly.

Yours, truly, &c., &c."

THE KANSAS ENACTMENTS.—Mr. Clayton, in the U. S. Senate the other day, in presenting his proposition for restoring peace in Kansas, said:

Shall we sit by while forty men were recently slain, and the excitement constantly increasing, and towns sacked and plundered, without endeavoring to avoid this distressing and shameful state of affairs? It is only by Justice that peace could be restored.

Some laws in Kansas, added Mr. Clayton, are palpably unjust and unconstitutional, and such as it is the duty of Congress to repeal. One of them declares that no man shall vote till he swears to obey the provisions of the fugitive slave law. He thought it unjust and cruel towards one section of the country, and to any one who differed with him in regard to that law. It was a dangerous and unexampled precedent, and contrary to the Nebraska bill. Another law of Kansas denies to any man the right to speak or print against the existence or legality of Slavery in that Territory; punishes such infractions with hard labor in the penitentiary for not less than two years. It does not say how many more; this does show the disgraceful character of the act.

Well, to tell the truth, there has not much happened The whole affair, in my mind, was of the bombastes furioso, gasconade and bogus order. There were not more than 10,000—no, I do not honestly believe there were more than 5,000 persons present. And who were they?—They were even worse than the common run of political meetings—boys, short-boys, strikers, ground-diggers, street-sweepers, soakers, and all the lemonade, ginger-pop-gin-sling-and-brandy-cock-tail crowd which frequent under-ground saloons, the pits of the Chatham and Bowery theatres, and who sleep in the Parks and in the station houses. Few of a respectable class were there, unless you call pot-house politicians respectable. Now and then there was a decent man, but he felt ashamed of himself, and his shame was only overcome by his curiosity to see the farce through. The speeches were dull—and fell generally like a wet blanket, cold and heavy.

THE DIFFERENCE.—Jefferson, in drafting the celebrated ordinance of '87 for the government of the North Western Territory, wrote:

Jefferson was one of the Fathers of the Republic, of the Constitution, and the founder of the Democratic party to which we now and always have belonged.

The slavery extensionists, in the recent Convention at Cincinnati, adopted a resolution endorsing the "organic laws establishing the Territories of Kansas and Nebraska as embodying the only sound and safe solution of the 'slavery question" upon which the great national idea of the people of the country can repose in its determined conservatism of the Union—Non-interference by Congress with slavery in State or Territory, or in the District of Columbia."

Jackson Democrats of Illinois, which kind of Democracy do you prefer? That of Jefferson, or that of the slave-drivers of the present day.—Chicago Democrat.

BUILDING IN WETAUWEGA.—Building is progressing more rapidly in this village, this season, than ever before. Vacant lots in the suburbs begin to fill up and the business streets show evident signs of consolidation. New frames are going up almost every day, and teams are constantly employed in hauling lumber from the mills to every part of the village for additional buildings. Over 80 buildings have already, since the season opened, been put up and are now being finished. The rush to this place is heavy, and our mechanics feel the influx very sensibly. From "early morn till dewy eve," the sound of the hammer is heard as the carpenters hurry on their work. Such is our village. Who says its course is not onward.—Weyauwegian.

☞ It did our heart good to hear the response made by Col. John Littlejohn, a soldier of the war of 1812, and hitherto an old line Democrat, to one of our Nebraska county officers, who inquired whether Buchanan was a Federalist. "Yea," said the Colonel, "Buchanan was speaking against my country when I was fighting her battles! Can I support such a man as Buchanan for the Presidency? No, sir!" The Nebraskite office-holder had no more questions to ask. The nomination of Buchanan falls still-born among the Democracy of Allegan Co.—Allegan Journal.

ANOTHER BANK.—We understand from Mr. Darling of the Exchange Bank of this city, that that institution is about to be organized as a Bank of issue with a capital of $50,000, and that they will be ready to commence business as such about the first of August next. All right. This shows the growing demands of business here, and the importance of our city as a business point.—Fond du Lac Herald.

☞ We learn that there is a prospect that a steamboat built at Oshkosh will run between this place and Montello, touching at intermediate points.

We hope that it is true, as it will be of incalculable advantage to the central and western portions of the county, and at the same time, pay the owners a large profit.—Berlin Courant.

[From the Buffalo Commercial.]

The Great Democratic Ratification Meeting at the Eagle Street Theatre.

This gathering was one of the richest in our political annals. We were not early in our attendance, and can only tell what we saw. When we arrived, Henry W. Rogers was speaking to a squad of about one hundred people, mostly gathered on the stage. Lounging in the parquette, or occupying the dress circle or gallery, was some two hundred more, who all looked especially good natured—they seemed to find a great deal to laugh at.

After trying for some time to get up a little enthusiasm, without success, says the Commercial, the Chairman said:

"We will now proceed to take the vote on the resolutions." Enthusiastic cries of "pro-ceed!" "Oh, yes, certainly!" By some unaccountable blunder, the negative was put after a feeble affirmative vote, and the resolutions were voted down!

There was no adjournment. That last vote was sufficient, and the officers of the meeting quietly took their hats and decamped informally.

Altogether it was a funny meeting. There was no positive disorder—no one got mad. The whole thing was the richest farce ever performed in that or any other theatre.

A VALUABLE ACCESSION.—We are pleased to learn that Mr. HECKER, the distinguished German exile, resident for some years in Illinois, has accepted the post of State elector on the Republican Ticket. The Galena Advertiser says:

Mr. Hecker is perhaps the most influential German in America. His services in behalf of liberty in Fatherland have endeared him not only to his German brethern, but to every one, the world over, who recognizes the inalienable rights of man. When Mr. Hecker settled in this county it was his intention to mingle no more in political life. His freedom from personal ambition, his fine genius and his superior attainments all led him to seek that serenity and composure which are alone to be found in seclusion from the world. But the crisis for freedom has come to his adopted country, and the voice of his fellow citizens calls upon him to leave, for the time, his farm, his books and his favorite studies, and cast his influence on the side of liberty. The same feelings which led him to strike for the right in Germany are again aroused in his bosom, and he responds in the language of the true patriot, "I am ready for the work." We hope Mr. Hecker will make it convenient to address the people of Galena at an early day.

The Free-State Men of Kansas to be put down by Buchanan.

At the ratification meeting at Washington City, Senator Douglas was the chief speaker.—The Washington Union reports a portion of his remarks as follows:

"The platform was equally explicit in reference to the disturbances in relation to the territory of Kansas. It declared that treason was to be punished, and resistance to the laws was to be put down. That was the whole question involved—whether the supremacy of the laws should be maintained, or whether mob violence should overthrow the officers of the law. On this question between law and violence, the democracy had expressed their sentiments: "they say that the laws shall be executed so long as they stand upon the statute book."

"He rejoiced that the convention, by a unanimous vote, had approved of the creed that law must and shall prevail. [Applause.] He rejoiced that we had a standard bearer with so much wisdom and nerve as to enforce a firm and undivided execution of those laws."

That is the entertainment to which the freemen of the North are invited by the Democratic Convention.

MANUFACTURING AT BELOIT.—The Beloit Journal says:

During the last year sixty thousand dollars have been invested in different kinds of manufacturing in this city. For one year this is doing nobly, though our facilities for executing this business are by no means exhausted. Nothing tends more to promote the permanent and prosperous growth of any community, than the establishment of manufactures. It matters but little what is made, if it be useful and fills a real public necessity. In the conversion of the raw material into some substantial article, which must be had, there is a gain to him who produces the useful implements,—gain to to him who buys, and great gain to the people among whom the result is wrought out.

☞ The Badger State complains of the fact that goods intended for Portage City, to go via Beaver Dam and the La Crosse R. R., have been sent to this city, via the M. & M. R. R., also that some passengers have taken the same route, and lays the blame to the M. & M. R. R. Company.—As accidents of this kind are likely all the time happening on railroads, we think that the General was a little too fast in making that charge. We think that the M. & M. R. R. has as honorably conducted as any, and should not be made accountable for the blunders of persons sending goods or taking passage by the wrong route.—Madison Argus.

"THE TRUE INTENT AND MEANING."—Give us the Missouri Border Ruffian for candor and truthfulness, all the time in preference to his co-worker in iniquity a few degrees further North. He scorns the employment of trickery and subterfuge—he is to proud to cover up his design by a specious and lying pretence. Dr. Stringfellow, while testifying before the Congressional Investigating Committee, spake of that self-evident falsehood, the Kansas Nebraska bill:

"If was the general understanding that the organic act was intended to open Kansas to slavery; this is what induced us to support the bill; every other position is bunkum!"

TAIL FISHING.—James Graham, and young Conklin of this city engaged in a fishing excursion day before yesterday, upon Beaver Lake.—The result was thirty-one pickerel, averaging fifteen and one-half pounds each—of these pickerel weighed twenty pounds. This is a specimen of what good fishermen can do with hook and line around Beaver Dam. We cannot do better than wish them an equal success the next time.

If any of our Milwaukee neighbors would like some come country relaxation, let them come up and try their hands with our city fishermen.—Beaver Dam Rep.

IMPORTANT ACCESSION.—The Independent Democrat of Waukegan, Lake county, has hoisted the Bissell and Hoffman banner, and goes for Freedom. Before the nominations at Cincinnati, the Democrat had placed the name of Buchanan at the head of its columns as its first choice for the Presidency, but the platform of the Slave Democracy, upon which Buchanan is placed, and he has himself so emphatically endorsed, was too much for the Democrat, and now that paper refuses to support him.—Chicago Tribune.

LOWER TOWN.—The Milwaukee company who have laid out the plan of the lower village, made last week by the arbitration of disinterested parties a division of their interests. The lots will be thrown into market immediately, and we doubt not speedily sold to mechanics and business men, who will be needed to carry on the trade of our now rapidly rising town.—Prairie du Chien Courier.

WINNEBAGO CO. WHEAT.—We were shown this forenoon some stalks of winter wheat from the farm of L. P. Crary, in the town of Black Wolf, which measured three feet, three inches in height, and was well headed out; some of the heads were over fourinches in length.—Oshkosh Courier.

NEW PROPELLER.—Tonawanda is the name of another new propeller, of the largest class, just completed for the Western Transportation Co., by B. B. Jones, at his ship yard in this city. Her dimensions are as follows: Length of keel, 202 feet 5 inches; breadth of beam 32 feet 3 inches; depth of hold 13 feet 8 inches, and 872 tons burthen, Custom House measurement. She is considered by many, taking her all in all, the best propeller that has been built here the past winter, and there has been a large number of fine ones turned out from the different yards this spring and summer. She is fitted and furnished in the most substantial manner, and will undoubtedly be one of the fastest of the fleet. She has two powerful oscillating engines from the Buffalo Steam Engine Works, and of the same dimensions as those in the Mohawk, noticed by us a few days since. She is now loading for Chicago at the dock foot of Huron street, and will leave this afternoon. Her officers are as follows:

Master—Capt. Palmer.
First Mate—D. B. Andrews.
Second Mate—Charles Grant.
Engineer—A. P. Southworth.

A vessel bearing the name of Home has just been completed at the ship yard of Mr. George Hardison, for Mr. Chester Hitchcock, of the following dimensions:—Length of keel 120 feet 10 inches; breadth of beam 24 feet 3 inches; depth of hold, 12 feet 9 inches, 200 tons burthen, Custom House measurement. Her model is good, and she is one of the strongest built vessels that has been built this season, her floor being solid timber. She has a powerful engine from the foundry of S. Shepard & Co., and is spoken of as being one of the best ever turned out from their works. She is to run in the People's line between this port and Chicago, under the command of Capt. Hayford, one of the best seamen on the Lakes, and leaves for Chicago this morning, with a full cargo of merchandize.—Buf. Ex. 14th.

PROPELLER GLOBE.—This propeller, which was altered from a side-wheel steamer a short time since—a small ten foot wheel being inserted for a propeller—is now making her rapid regular trips. She is commanded by Capt PRATT, and on her last trip from Milwaukee to this port, made the trip in Sixty-four hours, with a thousand tons of freight on board, discarding all competitors in the way of propellers, and proving that small wheels (to a certain point) are better than larger ones. This is the quickest trip we have heard of lately, made by a propeller. She carries out, on her up trip, over twelve hundred tons of freight, and is the crack vessel so far.—Buffalo Republic.

LOW WATER.—by a gentleman just from the Illinois river, we learn that the water in that stream is very low, only three and a half feet on the bars, and boats stuck all along the river. In consequence of this, only go and come half loaded, receipts of grain have dropped off, and higher rates will be charged for freighting lumber down the canal.—Chicago Tribune.

FREIGHTS—Lower—we quote at 12½c.

COAL—No sales to note.

POTATOES—75 c.

WOOL—We have no change to note, though lower prices seem to be certain. The following from the Detroit Advertiser indicates the tone of feeling in that market:

WOOL—The wool market, since our last, has taken quite a different aspect. At the time of our last review there were quite a number of wool buyers from the East, in the market, who have, since that time, returned home. One house, which purchased quite largely last year, has also been out of the market. Others, having on large Eastern orders, have had some of their clerks commissioned, and there seems to be a general disposition on the part of Eastern manufacturers to keep out of the market as much as possible for the present. One buyer, who has orders for 400,000 worth of wool, is limited to 2 c @ 2 ½ D for the best wools, with permission to offer that for lower wools are to be bought at from 55 to 85c @ ℔. not to buy. Other buyers think prices range about the same as last year, from 45c to

CITY MATTERS.

POLICE COURT, JUNE 18.

BEFORE CLINTON WALWORTH, POLICE JUSTICE.

Frank Kelson, for throwing filth into the Milwaukee river within the city limits was fined $5; Philip Boltert for a similar offence fined $5; Patrick McGrath, charged with violating the ordinance for regulating Hackney Coaches, Drays, &c., obtained an adjournment for one week.

Butler & Bowers' case was adjourned for a week.

STEALING TOOLS &c.—Patrick McCarty was examined on a charge of breaking into the Carpenter's shop of Davis & Bates, and stealing a number of Carpenter's tools belonging to some of their journeymen carpenters.

The shop was broken into and the chests broken open and robbed of several tools—the defendant sold them to a man named Collins, who keeps a "second-hand shop" on the West Water street, telling Collins that they belonged to a brother of his who was dead, the witness Collins stating in his evidence, "the second time as he came, there were another man there as worke 'i Turton and Secombs as heered what he said, and can swear to it."

The evidence made out a very strong case against the prisoner, who was committed for trial, and in default of $500 bail was taken to jail.

After Patrick McCarty was taken to jail by Policeman Rice, he disclosed where he had sold some other property that he had stolen, and also that he had stolen a coat and some other things from the propeller Comet Packet a few days ago, while she was in this port; some portion of the property was found at another second-hand shop.

TRICKS TO DEFEAT THE ENDS OF JUSTICE.—It is a common trick with counsel for prisoners in some cases—and they have been frequent of late—to obtain an adjournment by filing an affidavit, the real object being to defeat the ends of justice—to obtain in the end the discharge of the defendant, from the fact of the complaining witness being unable to bear the expense of waiting in the city to prosecute.

A stranger lands in our city and is assaulted by a hackman, or a resident here, perhaps beaten, as in one case, severely. The assaulted party obtains a warrant, and the defendant is arrested. On coming into court the defendant employs a lawyer, who straightway makes out an affidavit, and the defendant swears to it, that "he has been arrested and has not had time to mature his defence, that several witnesses whose name he does not know, (there is the only truth in the affidavit) he has not not been able to procure, but can obtain their testimony if an adjournment of one week is granted." The adjournment is granted, and the complainant of course will not step on expenses; the day of trial comes and no complainant is present. The police report shows that "John Doe charged with assault and battery upon ——, was discharged for want of prosecution."

The public read the report, but think little of the manner in which the prosecution was prevented. In many of these cases, if justice was done, the report would read thus: "A man named —— came and was arrested and brought up by Policeman —— for an assault and battery upon a stranger from ——, who had just landed from the steamer, en route for ——. An attempt was made by defendant's counsel to procure an adjournment for a week and an affidavit was filed and sworn to by defendant for that purpose. The Court ordered the testimony of the complainant and his witnesses to be taken at once, and notified the defendant that then was his time to cross-examine them, if he wished to do so, as the evidence would be used against him at a future day; the Court then adjourned the case for one week, to enable the defendant to "mature his defence," collect his imaginary witnesses, &c., &c.; and told the complainant to go on his journey, that he had been assaulted in a civilized community and the law was ample to protect him without delaying him a week and subjecting him to a great expense. The Court also censured the defendant's counsel for attempting to defeat the ends of justice."

Now there is ample statute law for all this; had as the Revised Statutes are, there are some good provisions in them, and the one for taking the complainant's testimony in the manner we have pointed out above, and allowing him to depart, to-goal, and should be followed up; it would do more towards breaking up the system of plundering, insulting, abusing passengers, strangers, &c., coming to the city than any thing else we know of. REPORTER.

Samuel Tucker, violating bridge ordinance, fined $2.—If "Old Dan Tucker" himself should trot across one of our city bridges, he would be fined, we suppose.

AN OLD BEGGAR WOMAN.—A woman came into the Police Court during the afternoon, accompanied by a little boy, asking alms; stating that she was a widow "with six feeble infants, six little children, and soon an son Everyent, without a cent of money." Her appearance led the Police Justice to think she was an impostor, and he directed a Policeman to arrest her, under Sec. 17 of Rules and Regulations of the Police, and if she was destitute to convey her to the Superintendents of the Poor to be relieved. On taking her to the Watch House, nine dollars in money was found upon her, and she there stated that her husband lived 14 miles from Chicago. On her promise to leave the city immediately, she was let go.

THE NORTH WESTERN SAENGERBUND.—Our German fellow citizens are all excitement with the preparations for the great Musical Convention which commences to-day.

Market Square reminds us of "Birnam's Wood" in motion, the whole street on both sides being lined with green branches of trees. The Committees receive their guests from abroad to-day at the various depots and landings. At 4 P. M. the singers all meet in Market Hall, and the strangers will be welcomed on behalf of the Society by Dr. FRANKEL.

At 8 P. M., the Milwaukee Musical Society per form the opera of "Alessandro Stradella" at Young's Hall, and the hall has been decked for the purpose with a profusion of green branches, flowers, &c. The scene will be an interesting one, and the Society will doubtless do its best, to the wavering of Balnka's magic wand.

The programme for the remainder of the week will be found in our columns.

SURVEYOR'S INSTRUMENTS.—MR. E. FRANK, who has for a long time been in the employ of Pike, the leading maker of mathematical and surveyor's instruments in New York, and who has recently opened a shop on East Water street, near the Market House, showed us, yesterday, a surveyor's compass, just completed, of admirable finish. He has also just finished a levelling instruments, and invites those interested to call and see them.

PASSING COUNTERFEIT MONEY—THE PARTIES ARRESTED.—Yesterday two men, who staid at the Bull's House, passed a couple of counterfeit bills upon Mr. Pollitt, in payment for their expenses, one a ten dollar bill, receiving $5 in good money in change. They were both arrested, one of them by T. O'Brien, and the other by Deputy Sheriff Parsons, and taken to jail.

COLLINGWOOD ROUTE.—The travel is increasing on this route, and no one who appreciates the beautiful in scenery will wonder at it. Only let a man make up his mind to spend a day or more on his journey eastward, and the Collingwood route is the one for comfort.

The Queen City, Capt. MILLER, is the boat for to-morrow, leaving at 8 A. M. precisely. L. D. JESSUP, the energetic agent here, offices corner of Main and Huron sts., can give all necessary information.

To-day, a purse of $100 will be contested for, mile heats, best 3 of 5, in harness, for second class horses. To start at 2½ P. M.

THE CUSTOM HOUSE.—The contractor is pushing away his job with energy, intending to have the roof on this fall. The stone cutters make lively music all day long, and the excavation for the foundation is nearly made, so that the first block of stone will be laid next week. With such massive blocks as they are, the building will rise rapidly.

SPECIAL TERM—COUNTY COURT.—By the notice of the Clerk, it will be seen that Judge JENKINS holds a special jury term, commencing on the 1st Monday of July.

FARM FOR SALE.—See notice of a very valuable farm for sale by Mr. MICKS, near Whitewater. It is all that he represents it, and more.

CAMPHENE.—Dealers in Camphene will see that an ordinance has been passed with especial reference to them.

SALES IN MURRAY'S ADDITION.—The sale of lots made yesterday by CALEB WALL, in Murray's Addition, reported below. The remainder of the lots will be sold on Thursday of next week. The easy terms upon which the sale is made, only requiring one fifth cash, doubtless accounts for the good prices obtained at that distance from the settled part of the city:

THIS is to be a week long to be remembered. Transactions and operations offer this week which may never occur again.

On Wednesday morning, Mr. Murray, one of our oldest and most substantial citizens, is going to have sold 20,000 feet lumber for him, on the West Water, joining Lockwood's Addition, and he tells me to sell the lots; he does not want any one to pay much money, and I, myself, am satisfied that every one will more than treble his money in one year. TWO HUNDRED desirable and valuable Lots to be sold in the First Ward, City of Milwaukee. On Wednesday morning, June 18, at 10 o'clock, I will sell to the highest bidder, on the easiest terms property has ever been sold at, all of that desirable plat of Murray's Addition, containing two hundred beautiful lots. The said Addition joins on the Lockwood and Glidden's Addition, and joins also the city property with the Plank Road. Go to the City Park. The lots are all very beautiful, high, and covered over with elm and maple groves; they are one mile this side the Light House. The Plank Avenues are to run through them, in fact it is the most desirable property to make investments in of any property that I have ever sold. The lots are of a good size, forty feet front, one hundred and twenty feet deep, with alleys the whole rear. You must all agree with me when I say that the First Ward has the pre eminence over all other wards for beautiful and private residences. The lots in Murray's Addition will command as high price in two years as lots do now in Astor, Marshall, Cass and Van Buren streets. There is no reason why they should not; our city is bound to go ahead, it is bound to have a population of one hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants, and the modern style of houses which are now going up in Lockwood & Glidden's Addition, with the various Parks around, certainly must make lots in Murray's Addition desirable. All of these facts events there is no great risk to run. The terms of sale are very easy. The lots will rell low, affording an opportunity to all those to secure them a home, and when once a home is obtained it never can be taken away, no matter what misfortunes may occur; for our laws are made to protect the widows and orphans, and the unfortunate.—Terms of sale will be one fifth down, balance in 2, 3 and 4 years with 7 per cent interest. The best title in the world. Mr. Murray gets it from Government. I will have a plat thoroughly and carefully made out in a few days, which I will give to all who wish one, if they will call at my store

VOLUME XI. MILWAUKEE DAILY SENTINEL, THURSDAY MORNING, JUNE 19, 1856. NEW SERIES.

Benedict's Appeal to a Bachelor.

BY JOHN G. SAXE.

Dear Chatter, be persuaded to wed—
For a sensible fellow like you,
It's high time to think of a bed
And muffins and coffee for two.
So have done with your doubts and delaying—
With a soul so adapted to mingle,
No wonder the neighbors are saying
"Its singular you should be single!"

Don't say that you haven't got time—
Tat bat-hness demands your attention—
There is not the least reason or rhyme
In the wisest excuse you can mention,
Don't tell me about "either fish"—
Your duty is done when you buy 'em!—
And you never will relish the dish,
Unless you're a woman to fry 'em!

You may dream of poetical fame,
Let your wishes may chance to miscarry—
The best way of sending one's name
To posterity, Charles, is to marry!
And here I am willing to own,
After soberly thinking upon it,
I'd very much rather be known
By a beautiful son than a sonnet!

Then, Charles, bid your doubting good bye
And dismiss all fantastic alarms—
I'll be sworn you've a girl in your eye,
'Tis your duty to have in your arms!
Some trim little maiden of twenty,
A beautiful as my eyes of,
With virtues and graces in plenty,
And no failing but loving yourself!

Don't search for an "angel" a minute—
For, grant my you win in the sequel,
Tis doubtful, after all, would be in it,
Wit a union so very unequal!
The angels, it must be confessed,
In this world are rather uncommon;
And alike me, dear Charles, my suggest
You'll be better content with a woman!

Then there's the economy, dear,
By poetical algebra shown—
If your wife has a grief or a tear,
One half by the lave, is your own!
And as to the joys of divi-ion,
They're always quadrupled, 'tis said—
(Though I never could see the addition Quite plain in the item of bread.)

MR. BULL DOESN'T QUITE SEE IT.—Under this heading, accompanied by an engraving which represents England in a portly but puzzled gentleman, standing hat in hand; and France as a dashing, free and easy lady, at his side, holding in her hand an olive branch, which she is putting into the button hole of his coat, the last number of Punch gives the following significant dialogue:

Mr. Bull—"Well, but you know, Marm, I don't—that is—s—I—"

His Ally—" Aha! you not quite comprehend! Never mind! All right! You sall put zis in your button-hole, an' come and see ze fire-work."

The mass of the English people are puzzled to know what the great war was about, and what they gained by it; and to stop their inquiries, they are invited to naval reviews, pompous parades and fireworks.

FRIENDSHIP.—It is not the least advantage of friendship, that by communicating our thoughts to another, we render them distinct to ourselves, and reduce the subjects of our sorrow and anxiety to their just magnitude for our own contemplation.—Coleridge.

HAVING recently received an entire new stock, and daily adding to it the latest styles of
SPRING GOODS,
Together with an enormous stock of DOMESTICS, purchased in the Fall at very low figures, with a view of being prepared for the EARLY SPRING TRADE, without being subjected to the exorbitant rates of Fall Road charges on such goods as are sold at a fraction above Eastern cost, we are prepared to show, and will be most happy to sell the
MOST COMPLETE AND EXTENSIVE STOCK OF DRY GOODS,
Ever before offered in the West!
Being connected with several large manufacturing establishments and importing houses at the East, giving us an advantage over any other Mercantile House in the State, and having long resided and done business in this city, and our establishing principles of doing business being well known to every city and country customer, to be of the most liberal nature, we flatter ourselves that we can say with safety that we consider competition quite out of the question.
We would say to
COUNTRY MERCHANTS
who design going East to purchase, that we would esteem it a favor if they would honor us with a call before leaving for New York and Boston, as we feel quite confident that we can convince them that it is to their interest to purchase in Milwaukee.
